Mon May 14, 2018 20 miles

I ran 4 x 5 miles with a 2 minute rest between each loop to eat and talk to Mary Jane etc. I think having run a fast 5 miles yesterday made today's effort equivalent to more than a 20 mile effort after tapering. The 5 mile course I used today is somewhat hilly. The workout lasted about 3.75 hours.

Average pace for each 5 miles: 11:18, 11:18, 11:00, 9:54

Average pace for the 20 miles of running: 10:53

I ate about 450 calories for breakfast about 40 minutes before running and drank 48 ounces of Gatorade (320 calories) while running. The total of 770 calories is what I need for a 3.75 hour workout.

This will be my last long run before the Green Jewel 50K in 19 days.
